Strange Safety Hub Kits (C-Clip Eliminator)

Safety hubs (C-Clip Eliminator), which were originated by Strange Engineering, are required by drag racing rules for good reason. C-Clip type axles are retained by a clip above the spline portion of the axle. When the stock axle or differential breaks, the entire axle/wheel assembly can slide completely out of the housing. Strange safety hub kit eliminates "wheel loss" and worn bearing areas. The bearings are retained and the axles held safely in place by the safety hubs that are bolted to the stock axle housing thru the existing backing plate holes.

Low friction ball bearing kits should be used for Drag Racing only, while roller bearing kits may be used for Drag Racing, Oval Track or street use.
