

Ford 8.8" Axle Packages for 3.150" ID Housing Ends

The following Pro Race and S/S axle packages are designed to work with aftermarket 3.150" ID housing ends. Strange has designed a 3.150" ID housing end that will allow you to use your OEM Mustang (8.8") drum brake kit, as well as maintaining the OEM 8.8" Ford rear housing tube. See Pages 5-14 for axle selection.

Ford 8.8" Aluminum Support Covers and Rear End Caps

The support cover features two premium grade load bolts; providing main cap support. The additional support of the case main caps dramatically reduces ring gear deflection, stabilizes gear backlash, and diminishes the chance of cap breakage and/or distortion. The Ultimate cover features two tapped holes, which will accept the optional LPW brace kit. Ultra-Pro covers are slightly lighter and are not machined to accept the brace kit. The Strange billet aluminum caps are lighter and far superior in strength than OEM cast caps. Billet aluminum caps are manufactured from heat treated aluminum and provide exceptional durability at minimal weight.
